

ENAC semester projects

The topics of ENAC semester projects address questions requiring an interdisciplinary approach and are offered by at least two teachers/researchers from different disciplines. The team may comprise an instructor from a section outside of ENAC; in this case, an agreement has to be made between the respective sections.

Students may also propose their own ideas for an ENAC semester project to at least two teachers/researchers from different disciplines who take the academic responsibility for supervising the proposed project. In this case, the students have to contact potential supervisors at least 6 weeks before semester start.

In any case, the supervisors have to register the ENAC semester projects via the website isa.epfl.ch (see below).

How to register an ENAC semester project

Login to isa.epfl.ch and perform the following steps:

1. Go to “Portail des projets”

2. Click the button “Ajouter un projet” in the tab “projets” and select “ENAC” as project type.

3. Fill in the form, then click “enregistrer”, “publier” and “valider”

4. You will then see a page where you have to choose the publication date. Then click “ajouter un contexte” and select the relevant period
